Diane Ness Laucks : Scrapbooking the World: Chronicles of a Global Traveler before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Scrapbooking the World: Chronicles of a Global Traveler:

What area inspired Charles Darwin to write On The Origin of Species? How does Dr. Birute Galdikas protect orphaned orangutans in Borneo? What does it feel like to stand on Lake Titicacas floating islands? If I travel, how can I create a scrapbook that will showcase my trips? These questions and many more will be answered as you are vicariously transported throughout the worlds seven continents. Scrapbooking the World: Chronicles of a Global Traveler follows Diane Laucks through thirty-seven years of travel experiences. These chronicles of her travels include personal experiences, recommended tourist attractions, historical or cultural background, and travel tips. You only need to have curiosity about the world and a willingness to explore unfamiliar places. The accompanying scrapbook page visually highlights each country through artfully displayed pictures and related memorabilia. Some of the scrapbook pages include tips for designing the layouts. Readers who like either traveling or scrapbooking will enjoy this book. Those who like both will love this book!

About the AuthorThe travel bug bit Diane Ness Laucks while she was touring in Kenya, and it has been entrenched in her body ever since. While on a cruise to Antarctica, Diane met a man who introduced her to the Travelers' Century Club, an organization founded to promote world peace and understanding through travel. To join TCC, you need to travel to one hundred countries, which Diane finally achieved in 1998. In 2007, she married her wonderful husband, who enjoys traveling as much as Diane does. Since her retirement in 2014, Diane has continued exploring some of the world's more exotic destinations, and she looks forward to many more years of traveling and scrapbooking!
