She talks about how she got started and why it means so much to her. The papers she includes are worth the price of the book. Leeza's good taste and sense of humour are evident throughout. About the Author Leeza Gibbons achieved national acclaim as an anchor on Entertainment Tonight and as host of her own daytime talk show Leeza. Her never-ending entrepreneurial creativity, her strong sense of family, and her dedication to charitable causes make her one of the most sought-after business partners and event speakers. Leeza's family history of Alzheimer's disease has resulted in her creation of the Leeza Gibbons Memory Foundation with Memory Centers Family Workshops. This also led to her interest in scrapbooking, a way to preserve memories that Alzheimer's takes away. Continuing her entrepreneurial pursuits, Leeza is releasing her own line of scrapbooking products in Spring 2004 called Legacies. Leeza brings passion, wit, and wisdom to scrapbookers in her first book on the subject celebrating the art of creating everlasting memories through pictures and words.
