The best soap for me has been melting the 'Grandma's Soap' that I get in a tractor supply store and using half of it shredded in to aloe for the liquid. Works on exzema and most rashes that itch! Learned from making other soaps in this book learned to 'experiment'! Thank you!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy sondra wagnerAwesome5 of 7 people found the following review helpful. Soap Craft BookBy dancingbearThis book is very well written and provides step by step instructions on how to make soap, bath salts, bath fizzies, shampoo etc...I would recommend for anyone wanting to try making products at home. The book arrived promptly and in excellent shape.

Discover the wonderful craft of hand-made soaps, bath bombs, bath salts and all other manner of bath time treats in this LUSHious collection of recipes that dont need special equipment, supplies or dangerous chemicals. Each section covers a different smelly and goes through the equipment needed, a guide to the basic techniques, adding dyes and scents, shaping and storage, before moving on to detailed recipes for beginners and finally projects for the more experienced.

About the AuthorIn addition to delighting readers of Home Farmer (where she is joint editor with her husband) with her many delicious recipes and homespun wisdom, Diana Sutton is also a well loved author of books on traditional recipes, often adapting the wisdom and skills of both mothers and grandmothers to the requirements of the modern world. She is also rapidly becoming recognized through her writing for her knowledge of natural beauty and hygiene products and here imparts some of her wonderfully aromatic recipes for bathroom 'smellies.'
