Elaine Stavert : Soaps (Cozy) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Soaps (Cozy):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Soaps (Cozy) By Renee Very nicely presented pictures and recipes... easy recipes for the first-timers and additional ideas (and then some) for novice mp soap makers! Anyone can make these wonderful soaps in just a few easy steps... and look like a professional to boot! This book has everything in a nutshell... everything you need to know about mp soapmaking is inside this book... from exfoliants, to colouring, to scenting, etc. If you like mp soapmaking this book is all you really need and go on from there! I love it and I recommend it! I am a seasoned mp soapmaker for last 10 years... this book did not let me down nor could I put it down! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Pretty Informative By Customer This book has been very informative especially on essential oils and fragrances. There are great recipes on melt and pour soaps and you can create your own recipes with some of the ideas on the book. I think this is a great buy for anyone interested in making melt and pour soaps. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. One of my all time favorites! By Kindle Customer This is a MUST HAVE book for any MP soap enthusiasts

Either as treats for yourself or gifts for loved ones, these 30 decorative soaps are delights to make, use, and show off in the bathroom. From La Vie en Rose, a heart-shaped soap with rose oil, to the sweet-smelling, honey-rich Bee Happy, each one features sophisticated scents, aromatic herbs that enhance mood or alleviate ailments, and natural materials. There's a perfect recipe for every crafter, whether it's the zesty, lemony Gin and Tonic, the woody Pine for Me, or the fun-for-kids gingerbread man and yellow duck bars.

About the Author Elaine Stavert runs the The Littlecote Soap Co in Buckinghamshire. Surrounded by hedgerows and meadows, and with a keen interest in herbalism and aromatherapy, Elaine was soon developing a range of natural toiletries and bath products that are kind to the skin. Elaine's passion for her products is evident in the pure and natural ingredients that are used in imaginative ways to produce traditional recipes with contemporary twists.
