Lan Dong : Teaching Comics and Graphic Narratives: Essays on Theory, Strategy and Practice before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Teaching Comics and Graphic Narratives: Essays on Theory, Strategy and Practice:

The essays in this collection discuss how comics and graphic narratives can be useful primary texts and learning tools in college and university classes across different disciplines. There are six sections: American Studies, Ethnic Studies,

Women's and Gender Studies, Cultural Studies, Genre Studies, and Composition, Rhetoric and Communication. With a combination of practical and theoretical investigations, the book brings together discussions among teacher-scholars to advance the scholarship on teaching comics and graphic narratives--and provides scholars with useful references, critical approaches, and particular case studies.

About the AuthorLan Dong is an assistant professor of English at the University of Illinois, Springfield. She is the author or editor of three books and has written a number of journal articles and book chapters on Asian American literature, children's literature, and popular culture.
