There are certain things that you want to watch out for so that you can avoid doing them, which are covered as well. Handy recipes are also included to get you on your way to a great start.

About the Author Eliza Minto can tell you firsthand how awesome it is to make your own soap at home from scratch. Once you get through it the first time, it becomes easier to make future batches of it. Plus there is no need to buy equipment again because you will already have it. Eliza has been making soap for years because her mom taught her and her grandmother taught her mom. In comparison to when they used to make it, the technique is a bit modern now which is helpful because life has a little more distractions today than it did for them. Because she's been making soap for so long, she knows what's involved from A to Z. All of that is shared in her book so that beginners can feel comfortable going through the process for the first time. She wrote it in a way as what she would want to know if she was just starting out from scratch so that it is easy to follow.
