Teapot Calendar lost its way to the teapot with new editorBy Eve HillThe new editor does not do this nearly as well as previous versions. The teapots used in the pictures are mostly disappointing, compared with earlier years. Nothing special, nothing exciting, and the editor does not really seem to know much about tea customs, doesn't really understand the difference between High tea, afternoon tea, Elevenses and the nuances of tea generally. History of ceramics is also not this editor's specialty. .Having purchased this calendar faithfully since its inception, next year I probably won't.The photography is still beautiful, but what is pictured is mostly not worth it.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The best calendarBy Bark N Purr InnI am a teapot collector and look forward each year for the new teapot calendar. This new one doesn't disappoint. If you love a good cup of tea served in a special teapot this is just the calendar to treasure all year long.

With 900,000 copies sold lifetime, THE COLLECTIBLE TEAPOT TEA CALENDAR celebrates the timeless tradition of afternoon tea: the companionship, the dainty and delectable treats nibbled between sips of tea, and the beautifully arranged table with an exquisite teapot at the center. The charming and quintessentially British AGA teapot stars in a homey spread with fresh-baked cupcakes. A romantic scene for Valentines Day: a 19th-century set with intricate scrolling, alongside roses and raspberry tarts. And a Burslem self-pouring teapot with delicate gold accents provides a lovely twist on the classic blue willow pattern. Accompanying Martin Brigdales gorgeous full-color photographs are tidbits of history and lore written by Shax Riegler.
