In this beautifully illustrated flower arranging book, Dr Lisa Cooper gives us an insight into the philosophy and practices of someone who works with flowers daily as a leading floral designer and artist. Through anecdote, gentler instruction, and photographic essays, The Flowers takes us from Cooper's studio workspace and to the growers' farms, to see flowers in their natural form as well as their display arrangements. There are 17 formal floral designs as well as a collection of stories from the people, family, friends, growers, artists, gardeners, and florists who have influenced and inspired her work.

About the Author Dr Lisa Cooper is a Sydney-based artist and florist with a Doctorate of Philosophy in Fine Art from the College of Fine Arts, NSW. Cooper's work with flowers through her commercial flower business Doctor Cooper Studio, spans major flower installations to hand-delivered flower gestures. Her clients include Tiffany Co, Deutsche Bank, the National Gallery of Australia, the Sydney Theatre Company, and the Sydney Museum of Contemporary Art.
